

DAG MOURNED

United Nations' flag flies at half mast in downtown Stockholm, mourning the death of UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden. At left is statue of former Swedish Chancellor Axel Oxenstierna. UN officials reported arrangements are being made to fly Hammarskjöld's body to Stockholm where the Swedish government is planning to honor the international diplomat with a state funeral.

Shoe-Pounding Birthday Marks 'Replace Dag' Era

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Just one year ago today Soviet Premier Khrushchev began a shoe-pounding campaign to bludgeon the United Nations into replacing Dag Hammarskjöld with a board of three men.

Then fate handed the Communists a tragic opportunity: Hammarskjöld's death. Now their campaign is beginning to boomerang. They seem to be pounding too hard with that shoe.

With the Asians and Africans fearful of the vacuum created by Hammarskjöld's death, Moscow apparently had hoped to stampede them into backing its three-headed "troika" plan for a board representing the Communist, Western and Arab nations. Under this the United Nations would be run by a three-man committee instead of a single, forceful secretary-general such as Hammarskjöld.

But instead of a stampede, the Russians' latest campaign loosed a tide of resentment among the smaller countries. For many of them the United Nations is their major foreign policy forum and they hesitate to see it destroyed.

FAVOR SINGLE CHIEF
A number of smaller countries had toyed with the idea of setting up a troika-type board of UN undersecretaries to run the far-reaching organization until a new secretary-general could be chosen. Most now are coming around to the U.S. position that a single chief must be named either on a stop-gap or permanent basis.

The shift is reflected in a move by a group of neutrals for the General Assembly to name an interim secretariat chief. The plan has not yet been presented formally, but more than 30 countries are reported to have lined up behind it. Many are fresh from this month's Belgrade conference of non-aligned nations, where they shied away from opposing Moscow and declined to condemn the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests.

U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk attempted to give the neutrals a push Friday by appealing for the assembly to defy Soviet opposition and choose "an outstanding world leader" as temporary secretary-general.

ENOUGH TO MAKE A CRAB CRABBY

SEATTLE (AP)—A crab is a crab, but is it a fish? The answer is important to Orin Lawson, who sells crabs at Milton, Wash.

The state contends Lawson illegally sets his prices by the crab instead of the pound. The law forbids the sale of any fish by the unit.

Justice William Lewis ruled Thursday any creature coming from the sea is a fish. He fined Lawson $100, suspended.

Last April, on a similar charge, another justice ruled for Lawson, stating that a crab is a crustacean, and not fish at all.

Lawson's lawyer said he will appeal.

OUTLOOK ROSY
VANCOUVER (CP)—A rosy outlook faced Pacific Coast Baseball League directors as they gathered here Wednesday night for their two-day annual meeting. "Things are great compared to last year," league president Dewey Soriano said. "At this time last season we had five clubs in trouble. Earl Sick was pulling out at Seattle. Vancouver didn't have a working agreement, Portland was a mess, so was Salt Lake and Sacramento was ready to quit."

SCOUT RECALLED
VANCOUVER (CP)—Coach Dave Sklen of B. C. Lions has recalled line-coach Don Brandy from scouting duties in the United States to join the flagging Western Football Conference team. A Lions' statement Wednesday said: "Although it was felt Brandy's job in the U.S. was very important to the club's rebuilding job for the 1962 season, Coach Sklen felt it imperative that he have Brandy's assistance for the next game—especially since it is possible backfield coach Ed Vesch will be re-activated and will play in Saturday's game at Calgary."

WEEK'S NEWS REVIEWED

Dag Mourned, UN Crisis, Cease-Fire In Katanga

By CARMAN CUMMING
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Hammarskjöld dies on Congo mission.
UN in leadership crisis.
Cease-fire in Katanga.

Dag Hammarskjöld, a 56-year-old Swedish bachelor who moved through the world of diplomacy with an air of patient reserve and a quick smile, died in a central Africa plane crash—on his last peace mission.

The United Nations secretary-general, one of the world's most travelled men, made his last flight on a chartered DC-6B from Leopoldville, the Congo capital, towards Ndola, across the border in Northern Rhodesia.

He was to meet there with Moise Tshombe, whose separatist Katanga regime had reacted violently to the UN attempt to bring it forcibly back into the Congo fold.

CRASH CAUSE UNKNOWN
Why his aircraft never arrived still is a mystery.

It apparently circled Ndola airport, was waved in, then turned away. The only survivor among the 16 aboard, an American UN security guard, said Hammarskjöld himself ordered the plane to alter course for another destination.

Shortly afterward, he said, a series of explosions shook the plane and it plunged down into bushland only a few miles from Ndola.

Among the victims was a 47-year-old Canadian secretary, Alice Lalonde of Joliette, Que., who had served a number of top UN officials.

News of the disaster brought quick charges of sabotage. There were suggestions that a bomb might have been placed aboard or that the craft might have been brought down by a marauding Katanga jet. Investigators working on the wreckage ruled out these possibilities.

CRUCIAL TIME

Hammarskjöld's death came at a critical time. The UN Katanga action had been condemned in many quarters and there were strong hopes that Hammarskjöld would bring an end to the fighting, in which the UN forces appeared to be getting the worst of it.

The UN General Assembly, going into its fall session only one day later, was faced with the immensely complex task of picking a successor—in the midst of Russian attempts to introduce a new system under which the UN would have three secretaries-general instead of one.

ARRANGE CEASE-FIRE

In Africa meanwhile the UN's Mahmoud Khari, a Tunisian, took over the task of negotiating a cease-fire with Tshombe. This was accomplished Thursday, but major questions still remained unsolved: particularly whether the UN would recognize Katanga's independence and pull out its troops.

BACK IN SPOTLIGHT

Other problems facing the returning UN delegates included a pair of old-timers: Communist China and disarmament.

The question of discussing Communist China's admittance to the UN, shelved each year for 10 years, finally was scheduled for full debate.

The political committee Thursday voted to accept two proposals to that effect, one by New Zealand and the other by Russia. But the New Zealand plan, backed by the U.S., would involve postponing for another year the final showdown.

The committee also accepted a British-U.S. move to set up a separate debate on a treaty banning nuclear tests. Russia, which exploded the 13th and 14th shots in its current nuclear tests series this week, tried to have the matter lumped with the assembly's debate on all disarmament questions.

FALLOUT FEARS
On Wednesday, Health Minister Monteth reported to the House of Commons that "very sharp increases" in radiation levels were recorded in central and eastern Canada during the weekend of Sept. 16-17.

The high levels "might" constitute a health hazard if they continue for a sufficient period of time, he said.

NO WARHEADS YET

Also in the Commons Wednesday, Prime Minister Diefenbaker told questioners no agreement has been reached yet on whether to acquire U.S. nuclear warheads for Canadian forces in Canada. He said national security will be the over-riding consideration when the government does make its decision.

WEATHER WOES

The United States, battered by hurricane Carla last week, nervously eyed her little sister, Esther, as she pounded up the Atlantic just off the coast. The Maritimes also appeared to be a likely target for a time, but by Friday Esther, after running into cool air off New England, weakened and veered out to sea.

NOT QUITE

In the wonderful world of baseball, where everything but the manager's in-laws are listed in the record books, Babe Ruth's 60 homers for a 154-game season has a unique place.

On Wednesday night Roger Maris, 27-year-old New York Yankee slugger, came up to the 154th game just two homers away from that record.

He whacked one into the stands in the third inning to make it 59 and almost made the 60th on two long fouls. In his last at-bat in the ninth, he dribbled a little one down the first base line. And millions who had followed the long race heaved a sigh.

Elementary PTA Meets Monday

First meeting of the new season for the Kelowna Elementary Parent-Teacher Association will take place on Monday at 8 p.m.

New locations for the meetings have been arranged this year to alternate between schools in the north and south parts of the city.

On Monday the meeting will take place in the auditorium of Central Elementary School at the intersection of DeHart Avenue and Richter Street.

The meeting will feature a "Meet the Teacher" night, when the principals will introduce their teaching staffs.

ROLE-PLAY SESSION

A thought-provoking role-play, concerning problems common to parents will be enacted. The audience will then be broken into groups for a 20-minute buzz session to discuss the action transpiring during the role play.

The association comprises parents and teachers from Glenn Avenue, Martin Avenue, Central Elementary and Gordon Road Elementary Schools, together with DeHart and Graham Street Primary Schools.

All parents with children at these six schools are invited to take part in the activities of the association.

After Monday's meeting, refreshments will be served.

Jaycees In Final Day Of "Week"

Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce is enjoying its final day of Jaycee Week.

During the past week the Kelowna group has publicized its many aims and functions in The Daily Courier to familiarize young men interested in joining.

Following is further information, and the Jaycee Creed.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is a supplementary educational organization wherein the young men of any community, regardless of race, color or creed, may join together in a friendly spirit to train themselves to develop civic consciousness by means of active participation in constructive projects which will improve the community, area and nation.

It is an organization based on action and high ideals. It is not a social club, nor a fraternity, although its activities do resemble these worthy organizations.

Junior Chamber is the true spirit of service and the desire to improve one's self.

Jaycees have during the last quarter century lived up to these standards and in the years ahead the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Canada will continue to grow and prosper in order to play its full part in the development of young men and the growth of this great country.

JAYCEE CREED

WE BELIEVE:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;

That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;

That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;

That government should be of laws rather than of men;

That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;

And that service to humanity is the best work of life.

CITY ACTIVITIES

Among activities popular in Kelowna are boating, water skiing, swimming, basketball, baseball, soccer, football, golf, tennis, fishing, hunting, bowling, hockey, photography and hiking. Other activities, both indoor and outdoor, serve the recreational needs of a growing community.

The Venerable D. S. Catchpole will dedicate this memorial retaining wall at St. Michael and All Angels

Anglican Church in Kelowna at noon on Sunday. The wall is built in memory of Edward Morris Carruthers, J.P., one of the founders of the Anglican parish, and who was on the building committee which was responsible for erecting the church. The memorial tablet insert will be unveiled by Mayor Dick Parkinson during the dedication ceremony.

Com. Chest Canvassers Shown Canvass Methods

Much was seen and much was learned when Allan Ribelin donated his time and equipment to show a synchronized film-tape talk to those who attended this week's meeting of zone leaders and canvassers for this year's Kelowna and District Community Chest campaign for funds.

BEST LIGHTED STREETS

Kelowna's attractive and modern downtown streets, among the best lighted in Canada, cater to every taste with a variety of merchandise seldom found in a city of this size. The city's businessmen have developed a brisk and efficient trading area through their efforts on behalf of the community.

56th REGATTA

In Kelowna in 1962 will be held the 56th International Regatta, Canada's greatest water show. Kelowna, for over half a century has played host to the Regatta, now a world-famous annual event and the means of identifying the city with a huge tourist trade. Water champions of Kelowna are world famous as is the area in which they live.

The message brought by the film, showing the method of carrying out a proper canvass of a household, was fully noted by those present.

Following the film a series of short talks and a panel discussion dealing with the campaign, were held. Ed Dickens spoke on the history of the Community Chest, while P. McCallum explained how the budgets of the various participating agencies were arrived at by their directors.

The public relations campaign planned for this year was explained by D. Northrop while J. Dyck explained the methods of filling out pledge cards to the zone leaders and canvassers.

QUESTIONS

The question period followed. The business and residential canvass is due to begin on Oct. 2 with the goal at 30,350. It is hoped this project will take two weeks this year.

Volunteers are still required to assist as canvassers and those interested in community work of this nature are asked to call Poplar 2-3608 between 10 a.m. and 12 noon on any weekday.

NO CONSCRIPTION FOR FIRE SAY FORESTRY OFFICIALS

No hunters in the area of a forest fire near Myra, southeast of Kelowna, have been conscripted, says the B.C. Forest Service. The move to conscript hunters stemmed from the forestry officials in Kelowna Friday, after a fight of nearly a week on the blaze which, said the officials, "was started by human carelessness."

The blaze, located four miles south of Myra, did not destroy any marketable timber, it was reported. However, the 250-acre fire did real damage to newly-planted seed blocks in the area, all of which have to be re-planted.

During the course of the fire, there were 68 men employed on the fire lines since it started on Sunday. It got under control late Friday, and there are now 20 men patrolling the area.

PERFECT HAND IN CRIBBAGE

The "Big 29" a perfect cribbage hand was held by Mrs. C. Duquemin of 1216 St. Paul Street on Thursday.

Mrs. Duquemin got the 29 hand, a perfect hand in cribbage, while playing with Mr. and Mrs. H. Beale of Burne Avenue at the Duquemin home. She was in partnership table play with the ladies opposing the men.

Mrs. Beale dealt and her partner got the jack of spades and three fives. Mr. Beale cut the cards and the five of spades turned up making the perfect combination.

Nurse Meeting To Be Held In Salmon Arm

The Semi-Annual Meeting of the Kamloops-Okanagan District Registered Nurses Association of British Columbia will be held in Salmon Arm, Friday, Oct. 13, at 6 p.m. in the Christian Education Center of the United Church, Okanagan Street.

Miss W. Rowles, R. N. Director of nurses, Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops, will be the guest speaker.

She will give an account and show pictures of her trip last June to the quadrennial meeting of the International Council of Nurses in Melbourne, Australia.

All nurses are welcome — Please notify your local R. N. Chapter.

CITY INDUSTRIES

Among industries in the Kelowna area are fruit growing, lumbering, dairy farming, flower growing and poultry farming, among others. The fruit industry, a multi-million dollar industry, provides produce for markets around the world. Fruit growers of the Okanagan Valley are continually working on better crops, better produce and better methods in an area already one of the world's best in the industry.

BANK DAMAGE

Hole in the back wall of the Bank of Montreal at the Shops Capri shopping centre was discovered Friday, although it is still only conjecture as to what caused it. RCMP estimate that the damage was caused by a vehicle backing hard into the cement structure sometime Thursday night. A deliberate attempt at breaking and entering was discounted by police. The hole was quickly repaired.

New Ladder Truck Here

A new ladder truck with an extension of 100 feet arrived in this city Wednesday night for use in the Kelowna Fire department.

Fire Chief Charles Pettman said today it will likely be about a month before the LaFrance truck will be put into actual use.

He said the vehicle must pass various inspections and firemen have to familiarize with its many working parts.

KELOWNA'S NAME

The name "Kelowna" is a corruption of the Indian meaning "Grizzly Bear." In Kelowna team names such as "Bruins," "Bears" and other similar titles is often used. Team names such as "Packers" became popular as the fruit industry of the Okanagan Valley blossomed forth.

Many Attend First Night Of Fall Fair, Hobby Show

A constantly changing crowd which never numbered less than 150 at any time Friday night attended the opening of the annual Rotary Hobby Show and Fall Fair.

The fair, held in Memorial Arena and in Centennial Hall today and tonight. Many kinds of exhibits are on display. There are models of trains, planes, cars, art work in colored stone, painting, a pistol display, books, stamps, wood-turning, wood burning, and a rock show.

BIG ATTRACTION

One of the biggest attractions was a display of an electric train run by Jimmie Godfrey. The display, which involved more than a year's construction, attracted everyone who came into the show.

Messages from many parts of Canada were heard over the amateur radio set operated by the Kelowna Civil Defence. Some of the messages were received in an unusual way.

This happened when the amplifier and speaker of a nearby electric organ on display picked up the frequency and began broadcasting the conversations to the general public.

The fair-sized crowd which inhabited various games in Centennial Hall tripled and redoubled when Bingo was announced.

Another exhibit which attracted many of the younger set was that put on by the Rebels Boys' Club of Vernon. This display, of many types of model hot rods, as well as of more conventional model means, won many favorable comments on its detailed intricacy of the modeling.

"This is an oldie!" The comment was from one of many who passed by the exhibit of the Kelowna Stamp Club and saw letters mailed in the 1840's, which bore stamps of the then newly-crowned Queen Victoria, and addresses in beautifully-written copper plate script.

STRIKING DISPLAY

Perhaps one of the most striking displays was that put in by Renee Smith, who entered art done in stone.

This involves attaching stones and pieces of rock in various colors and shapes onto highly-polished wooden plaques in frames, the rock being arranged so as to form a picture.

FOR WOMEN

One of the most interesting displays to the women was an exhibit of more than 200 salt and pepper shakers, some of them of antique value, and all of them of odd shapes and sizes.

A well-attended display was entered by Sunnyvale School, of rugs, models and other work done by pupils at the school.

PAINFUL MISHAPS

Two minor accidents marred the week of two Kelowna residents. On Thursday, John Gates, a linotype operator at The Daily Courier, injured a finger in machinery and required emergency treatment at the hospital. Second mishap took place yesterday when Mrs. Jean Shepherd of Richter Street, caught a finger while sewing. The needle penetrated her finger. She too, received emergency treatment.

CHIMNEY FIRES

The Kelowna Fire Department answered two chimney fires overnight. At 7:35 p.m. they attended the first one at 781 Bay Avenue, and minutes later at 7:45 p.m., they were at 331 Coronation Avenue. No damage was done and both fires were extinguished.

HE WAS THERE

Russ Hawley, C.L.U. of Kelowna, was among a group of specially selected life underwriters from various parts of B.C. to attend a one-day conference which discussed training methods for the LUATC.

UNSETTLED WEATHER

The weather in Kelowna and the Okanagan Valley, unsettled for the past 24 hours, may continue in this trend over the weekend. Cloudy skies and cooler temperatures are expected, with some sunshine on Sunday. Low and high at Kelowna will be 44 and 65 tonight and tomorrow. Some scattered showers are also predicted.

As the funeral of Dag Hammarskjöld will not be held until Sept. 29, the flags on all public buildings, including those in Kelowna, will be raised from half-mast until that day. On that day they will be again lowered to half-mast. This is done in memory of the former secretary-general of the United Nations who was killed in a plane crash in Africa last week.

SHOULD DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME BE EXTENDED?

Carl Pohlmann, 527 Bernard Ave.—"Yes." I like it much better than standard. I wouldn't like to have Standard at all because it makes the afternoons seem so long when you have to work.

Robert M. Johnston, 961 Lawson Ave.—"Yes," definitely. You can get some work done at night. They cut Daylight time off just when a fellow needs it. It should last at least another month.

Henry Knoblauch, 1691 Pandosy St.—"I think they should either keep it on all of the time or not at all. They should n't make any changes."

Gordie Hill, 1862 Lequime—It doesn't make any difference to me because being a railroad man I go by standard time anyway.

Jeannette Charest, R.R. 1 Westbank—"I think it's fine just the way it is. It actually doesn't make that much difference.

Carol Westradowski—"No, definitely not. Getting on winter I want it to get dark faster. I would like to have standard time a permanent thing. I don't like losing that hour's sleep on the changeover.

Shirley Palmer, 645 Elliott Ave.—"I would rather have standard time. Days seem much longer now. Standard time should be on all year round.

Mrs. R. E. Woodgate, 508 Cadder Ave.—"I'm quite happy with it but would rather have standard time all year round. It's too dark in the mornings."

Personalities Beclouding Columbia Development

In all the theatricals surrounding the B.C.-Ottawa squabble about Columbia River and Peace River power development, there is one fact that stands out crystal clear. Personalities Premier Bennett and Hon. Davie Fulton are at obvious loggerheads and it has reached the stage where if one says black is black the other will contend that black is white. There are signs to suggest that one will not speak to the other and, in fact, it would appear that as much time is consumed thinking up nasty things to say about the other than there is spent on consideration of the actual problems involved.

Certainly the public of this province is becoming a little tired of this feud. It is considered petty, undignified and a real obstruction to the finding of a solution to the present Columbia power impasse. The public of this province knows that the province cannot afford such shenanigans. Too much is at stake. The issues are great and the expenses entailed are very large. There is no room for personal bickering if the Columbia development is to go ahead and the province benefit thereby.

In the business world, when such conditions arise, a new approach would be made by changing the negotiating persons. If negotiators cannot talk to each other, or refuse to, then the only thing is to change the negotiators, replacing them with people who can and will discuss the problems on their merits. Unfortunately the present dispute is not in the business sphere; it is governmental.

Nevertheless, we think, the same method should be adopted and it might work where the present negotiators have failed to reach either agreement or understanding. Premier Bennett is head of the provincial government so it is unlikely we can look for any change on that side.

However, Mr. Fulton is not head of the federal government and so a change might be made there. Prime Minister Diefenbaker, we think, should take a good look at the present situation and suggest Mr. Fulton step down and be replaced in future negotiations by someone else. It is true that Mr. Fulton, as head of the Canadian delegation, negotiated the treaty with the United States. It is true, too, that he is a minister representing British Columbia and particularly that area which will be affected by the Columbia development. Obviously, then, to have him step down would be a blow to his prestige. But the issues at stake are too great to have them frustrated by one man's personal feelings or prestige.

This newspaper would suggest that Mr. Diefenbaker ask Hon. D. M. Fleming to assume responsibility for the federal government in further talks with this province on the Columbia. Mr. Fleming has already been concerned with the financial aspects of the Columbia development and there is reason to believe that he and Mr. Bennett can at least talk together without hackles rising as soon as they see each other, or hear the other's name.

The provincial government under normal circumstances has another three or four years in office, so no change need be expected there. A change could be made however by the federal government. And it should be. If the Columbia impasse is to be resolved; if the Columbia development is to go ahead, the solution must be found reasonably soon. But it cannot be solved while the two principal negotiators are at daggers drawn. The solution can only be found through the introduction of at least one new face.

Columbus Myth

The world, it seems, is deeply influenced by images of historic personages that are based, not on fact, but on accepted myths.

In this connection a California writer, Leland D. Chapman, concedes that for years he has been mildly annoyed over the popular concept of Christopher Columbus. Now he has reached the stage where he feels that the Columbus myth is dangerous; that the schools should place more emphasis on the real Columbus, what he was promoting and what he accomplished. Chapman writes:

"The Columbus myth is dangerous because it is used to justify every crackpot scheme demanding the assistance of the American taxpayer in the field of space exploration. This myth projects the image of an inspired dreamer, laughed at by practical people who thought the earth was flat—a dreamer who proved that he was right, becoming thereby the godfather of our country. The Columbus myth suggests that practical people are always wrong and dreamers always right.

"The real Columbus believed that he had discovered Southeast Asia, and persisted in this error to the end of his life, while some of his contemporaries were suspecting that hitherto unknown continents had been found. The real Columbus was an obstinate, unscientific man, unwilling to submit his theories to a free discussion, who declared Cuba to be a part of the Asiatic mainland, and threatened to cut out the tongue of any man who said otherwise.

"On the credit side, Columbus did promote a voyage at a time when the success of such a voyage would have a far reaching beneficial effect. The practical purpose was to provide cheaper transportation of goods from Southeast Asia to Europe, goods which Southeast Asia was known to possess and which Europeans wanted."

In Passing

High school pupils should be adept in learning foreign languages, as they experience no difficulty in learning teenage slang.

"It's later than you think"—and if you're a woman, it's twice that late.

Times change. Doctors used to bleed patients by extracting blood.

It is wondered whatever became of the song "Turn back the universe, and give me yesterday." Under current world conditions, the proposal has considerable merit.

It is deplorable that so many young people, including a large percentage of teenagers, are marrying before they are old enough to know better.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

Labor Transfer Plan A Failure

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent

For The Daily Courier

GLASGOW, Scotland — Early in the summer quite a furor was caused in Scottish trade union circles by the announcement that a shipyard in Hamburg, West Germany, was recruiting workers on the Clyde. The Hamburg firm was in difficulties because of a lack of labor. On the Clyde were many idle shipyard workers. It seemed like a logical set-up with mutual advantages.

Now the whole scheme has been scrapped by the Schlicker shipyard of Hamburg, and it will look to other sources on the continent of Europe for its labor supply. Two reasons were cited for the dropping of the plan. Too few men wanted to move from Scotland to Germany to make it worthwhile, and the firm was embarrassed by the hostile reception it had received in the United Kingdom, particularly in the trade unions in Scotland.

CLASH OF TASTES

There were some underlying causes for the failure of the plan. Explaining these, an official of the Schlicker company said: "Only about half a dozen men were interested in coming. It would not have been possible for us to take such a small number. They would not have had separate quarters with a Scottish cook to prepare their meals. They might have had to share quarters with our Italian workers and eat spaghetti—with a clash of temperaments and tastes."

The firm had been embarrassed, the official spokesman said, by the reception that the scheme had been given by the unions and newspapers in Britain.

"It is odd that if the British are interested in linking with Europe they should have such an attitude."

OTHERS MOVING IN

The shipyard had been completely satisfied with a pilot team of six Scottish shipyard workers who went to Hamburg earlier in the year. The firm would have liked many more of them on its payroll.

Now, however, workers of other nationalities are moving in where the Scots have hesitated to tread. Now there are several hundred in Hamburg's labor-starved industries. The Schlicker enterprise alone has some 350, mostly Italians with a sprinkling of Greeks and Spaniards. Now to ease the labor shortage, which is described as desperate, the firm has turned to Turkey for workers, and over the next month or two some 40 or 50 Turks will be arriving in Hamburg, which at the moment is a shipbuilding boom city.

Our sins and stupidities would shatter our peace if it were not for the grace of God. Praise Him!

Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? — II Thessalonians 2:5.

Forgetfulness opens the door to the devil. Read the Bible every day and be reminded of God's will.

OTTAWA REPORT

EMC Move A 'Bombshell'

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
To many Canadians the news has come as an unexpected bombshell that Britain really hopes to join the Common Market and may thus break up the Commonwealth.

The European Economic Community, generally known as the Common Market, was created by the Treaty of Rome, signed as long ago as March 25, 1957 by France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. By January 1, 1959 those nations were ready to take the first step to weld themselves into a homogeneous economic unit. Over a transition period of 15 years or less, they will eliminate all tariffs and other barriers to trade among themselves, and will adopt a common external tariff against the rest of the world.

This has been criticized in some circles as a discriminatory step against other countries. If Britain were to join too, says the perhaps superficial argument, that would be a step unfriendly to Canada.

GRITS AND TORIES AGREE

The former Liberal Government and the present Conservative government have both taken the view that the "status quo" is the most satisfactory basis for Canada's trade. But there is another side to this question, and many prominent businessmen and politicians of all parties now share the viewpoint, long advocated by some Canadians, that our best hope of future prosperity and security lies inside some such supranational trading unit.

The elimination of all tariffs between the member nations of the Common Market is no more than the 13 former British colonies did when they formed themselves into the United States of America some 175 years ago. And what unexcelled prosperity that "common market" has achieved for its citizens!

More significant, but often overlooked, are the many benefits offered by the Treaty of Rome to the citizens of the Common Market countries. There will be measures to improve living and working conditions, and to equalize such conditions within the community at increasingly high levels. These include specifically the payment of equal wages to men and women for equal work; freedom for any worker to apply for and accept a job anywhere within the community, and to settle his family permanently at that location; making social security benefits fully cumulative, and portable; permitting the free movement of capital. And perhaps most significant of all, creating the European Social Fund to provide for the retraining and resettlement of workers, and their compensation whilst temporarily unemployed; this is to protect those workers harmed by the new circumstances, such as their plant being converted to other production deemed more competitive.

BIRTH OF NEW GIANT

Suppose that Britain's application for admission to the Common Market is accepted by the present six members. There will then be in the making a third huge industrial unit in the world, numbering some 215 million citizens and located between the similar units represented by 180 million citizens of U.S.A. and 200 million in Russia. The value of its total trade, in exports and imports with the rest of the world, is already 20 per cent higher than U.S.A.'s foreign trade, and of course much higher than Russia's. But its gross product, measured by the questionable yardstick of currency exchange rates, is only half that of U.S.A. By any standard the European Economic Community will be a third great power, in population, in industrial strength, and hence in military potential. As its standard of living now lags materially behind that in North America, it will have the exciting and lucrative prospect of producing the goods and gadgets to catch up in this respect over the next two decades.

To give readers some of the background to the historic changes now pending, this column will outline some of the effects which the Common Market might have on Canada as an outsider, and on the workers who live in countries which join it.

INSIDE YOU AND YOURS

Wring Out Ear Noise

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Does ringing and hissing cloud your hearing? Is your vision clouded by vibrating eyeballs? Do you stagger drunkenly?

Can anything help this Meniere's Disease which often steals in as narrowed, hardened arteries tighten into spasm and extra fluid is squeezed into the bony inner ear?

To quiet ringing and stop dizzy spells this fluid has to drain.

During a spell, injection of sea sickness medicine can slow your swirling world. Shots that swell water through the kidneys dry up extra fluid.

NICOTINIC ACID
Nicotinic acid opens narrowed blood vessels into giant pipelines to drain off this fluid. Relief comes rapidly—within a half-hour or so!

Nicotinic acid — 100 mg., four times a day — can quiet most ear noise. To keep those pipelines open, you have to gulp down each pill on an empty stomach and quickly swallow a drink.

Unlike nicotinic acid, nicotine tightens these vessels. Don't let smoking break your sound barrier!

Crying jags and emotional sprees magnify Meniere's trouble. Ask your doctor about atropine pills to quiet those dizzy-spell qualms. You simply pop a pill under your tongue whenever you feel a spell coming on.

Salt holds extra water in your system. A low-salt diet and medicines to wash away extra salt can control Meniere's trouble the same way diet and insulin control diabetes.

NO BAKING POWDER
But you'll have to give up crackers, biscuits — anything made with baking powder. Meats or fish, too, if they're smoked or salted! Check the labels on cans and preserves for salt or sodium.

And avoid sodium-containing medicines! Even thirst-quenching water can be added with salt. Is yours?

You can still enjoy delectable dishes. Spices, herbs and lemon and lime are just a few of the flavors that can lull your taste buds.

For more details and tasty Meniere's menu suggestions, write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed return envelope!

East Kelowna Women's Institute Plans Sept. Home Cooking Sale

The monthly meeting of the East Kelowna Women's Institute was held in the Community Hall last Tuesday with the president in the chair and eight members present.

A visitor was made welcome and the meeting opened with the Collect of the A.C.W.U. after which the minutes were read by the secretary and the financial report given.

Items of interest were read from the W.I. News Letter and the president spoke of the Federated Women's Convention which was held recently at the University of B.C. which she had attended. The members decided to hold a sale of Home Cooking to take place at the Rutland Packing-house towards the end of the month under the supervision of Mrs. G. Macdonell. Other Fall activities were tabled until the next meeting. Afternoon tea was served then by the hostess Mrs. G. Davidson.

An Interest In Peachland Is The Little Rock Gem Shop

The "Little Rock Gem Shop" on Beach Ave., at 12th in Peachland, is a fascinating spot to visit and learn about the many pieces of semi-precious stones and petrified iron wood, collected by the genial owners of the shop, Al and Edith Moore, who are so willing to explain the many facets of this interesting hobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore have always admired a pretty rock, but recently became interested in collecting some three years ago when spending the winter in Arizona. While there they met numerous "Rockhounds" visited all the rock shops possible and travelled to many of the recommended hunting areas. When returning home in the spring they brought numerous pieces of petrified iron wood, agates, jaspers, and other stones.

The following winter on their trip south, they started collecting petrified wood in Washington and continued to gather rock material all the way to New Mexico. They, from a rock dealer, they obtained some nice specimens that had been brought in from old Mexico, such as very colorful Mexican Luce Agate, Onyx, Amethyst, etc.

Back home in the spring, Jade became the most interesting of all the semi-precious stones to this pair of collectors. Since then they have collected a considerable amount of fine B.C. Jade, obtained mostly from the Bridge River area, some of it found by themselves. They have also bought different pieces wherever good specimens were available.

Rhodolite, from B.C. is also one of the specialties of the Little Rock Gem Shop. They obtained some very high quality of this which is second to none, anywhere. This is found on Vancouver Island, the Queen Charlotte Islands and the Kermec area. Agate nodules and pebbles have also been found in the Monte Lake and Robins Range country, these supply a great variety of color and patterns.

Most of the forementioned gemstones are made up into attractive jewelry such as pendants, earrings, bracelets, rings, mounts for bolo ties, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are taking display cases of unusual and interesting specimens also cut, polished and mounted stones to the Kelowna Home Fair and Hobby Show on Friday and Saturday of this week.

EAST KELLOWNA

Miss Anne Rowles left at the weekend for Vancouver where she will attend the University of British Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Forbes and family of Kelowna have moved into a house on the Jack O'Reilly property.

Mrs. R. F. Borrett has returned from a very enjoyable holiday which she spent in Saskatchewan visiting her relatives and friends there.

Social Events At Winfield

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lind have returned home from Vancouver where they visited at the home of their daughter and family, on their return they were accompanied by Mr. Lind's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lind of White Rock, B.C.

Mr. A. Patching has returned home from a vacation at the Coast while in Vancouver he attended the P.N.E.

Mrs. M. Flemming of Vernon is visiting at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gunn, also a recent visitor at the Gunn home was their daughter and family Mrs. W. Verners of Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McGarvie have returned home from a short stay at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. J. McGarvie at Cascade, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Edginton drove to Chase where Mrs. Edginton was a delegate from Branch 189, Oyma at the North Okanagan and Mainline District Council meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion held there recently.

Mrs. M. McDonagh accompanied them and also attended the meeting. The winners of the $50 grocery vouchers were Mrs. Nicklin of Merritt and Mrs. E. A. Smith of Quesnel.

A H-C group has been organized by the young people age 13-15 years of the United Church, meetings will be held each Friday in the basement of the church at 7:30 p.m.

Councillors are Student Minister Mr. Graham Dickie and Miss Margaret Berry and the group consists of young people from Winfield, Okanagan Centre and Oyma.

The first meeting was held last Friday at which thirteen members attended; the executive voted into office were president, Don King; vice-president, Ross McCoubry and secretary, Wendy Thomson of Oyma; treasurer, Don Kawing of Okanagan Centre. The meetings will include fun, fellowship and study, one meeting during each month will be a recreation night and the first outing will be a bowling night on September 29th.

The McIntosh harvest is almost completed in the district and both Vernon Fruit Union and packhouses are working full tilt to pack the crop.

AROUND TOWN

The University Women's Club in Kelowna is hosting a Membership Tea at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, October 10th, at the home of Mrs. John W. Kelly, 450 Royal Avenue. All members and the children will remain in Kelowna for several months.

Sorptomist Club Of Kelowna Is Visited By Regional Governor

Mrs. Brigadier Francis Wagner, of the Salvation Army, and whose home is in Calgary, is Regional Governor of the Western Region for the Sorptomist Federation of the Americas Inc. recently paid a visit to the Kelowna Sorptomist Club. A dinner was held in her honor at the Chez Louis Cafe, later the members convened at the home of the new president, Janet Ritchie, where a special session was held, after which delightful refreshments were served.

Regional Governor Francis Wagner, gave a most interesting, and enlightening address on the affairs of the Sorptomist Federation of the Americas Inc. (the corporate body of all Sorptomist Clubs), as to their many phases of service. This is all made possible by the contributions of the many Sorptomist Clubs throughout the Regions. A note of interest here, is the fact that this year Sorptomism celebrates its 40th anniversary. Clubs have been in existence since 1921 to 1961, and are now world wide. There is a strict code of ethics, with Service as their keynote. One of the highlights of their Service Projects, is the annual awards given as Bursaries, and Post Graduate Fellowships, to worthy persons chosen from all countries. There have been two chosen from India, one from Egypt, one from Turkey, and one from the Philippines. Sumati Ghandi, granddaughter of Mahatma Ghandi, was one of the chosen. The last Fellowship was awarded to a doctor who is majoring in Bacteriology. These awards are for Three Thousand Dollars each. Each Sorptomist Club helps in this service project by membership contributions. This is accomplished by the novel method of denying themselves one cup of coffee each week, and placing instead, a dime in a specially prepared bank for this purpose. This Adventuring in Service, carries the slogan, "Choosing Mountains and Climbing Them". And when accomplished will net the Federation the sum of Four Thousand Dollars. This will be presented as a commemoration in celebrating their 40th Anniversary of Sorptomism, and will be used in their program of awards. This is by no means their only service endeavors. As a group they are out to help all mankind, from Infancy to Old Age.

Need Not Be Blind In Buying Cleaner

MONTREAL (CP) — Buying a vacuum cleaner can be a bewildering experience but it isn't necessary to go into it blind.

Jane Warkentin, a graduate of Ohio University in home management and equipment, has sorted and conveniently tagged all the types available.

Her study, published in the Canadian Association of Consumers bulletin, was the result of research she did during her three years in the kitchen planning department of the Ohio Fuel and Gas Company.

And she has had practical experience as a homemaker since her marriage to Ben Warkentin of Vancouver, now assistant professor of physics at Macdonald College near Montreal. The couple have one young son and a home with lots of cleaning surface.

First, she says, there are four types of vacuum cleaners—spherical tanks, round or rectangular canisters, uprights and small hand cleaners. The hand models are comparatively inexpensive and good for cleaning stairways and car

Kelowna Couple Are United At Double Ring Ceremony

Saint Paul's United Church was charmingly decorated with baskets of gladioli on August 26th at 4 p.m. when Diane Jean daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Carlyle became the bride of Norman Robert Felty son of Mrs. Earl Felty and of Kelowna and the late Mr. Felty.

The Reverend A. Birse officiated and the soloist, Mrs. G. Bragmetz sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. A. Pettipiece at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father was radiant in a floor length gown of satin brocade with a shirred bodice featuring long, tight hipoint sleeves and a large tailored bustle bow at the back. A crown of tulle and sequins held her scalloped, chapel length veil of nylon tulle which was studded with sequins, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Donna Barber of Kelowna was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Carlyle and Miss Anne Mikkelsen, both of Calgary, who were similarly attired in street length dresses of blue organza with "spegette" shoulder straps and white lace jackets. Their headdresses were Mr. John Bows of blue net centred with a white rose, and they carried bouquets of white gladioli centred with pink carnations.

The pretty small flower girl was Miss Debbie Leslie who was formerly of Kelowna and now lives in Perth, Ontario. She wore a dress of white nylon with a tiered lace skirt and a tiny tiara headdress and carried a small basket of pink and white rosebuds and carnations.

Mr. Nick Imthorn of Ladner acted as best man and Mr. Bob Renaud and Mr. Henry Imthorn of Kelowna were the ushers.

After the ceremony a turkey dinner for one hundred guests was served at the Capri Motor Inn where the mother of the bride received wearing a sheath of ice-blue brocade with a matching jacket, pale gold accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who chose a dress of mauve chiffon over pink satin brocade with mauve and white accessories complimented with a white orchid corsage.

A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom nestled in white tulle on the head table and was flanked with tall white tapers in silver candelabra and surrounded with the bouquets of the bridesmaids and the flower girl.

In charge of the bride's book and wedding gifts was the bride's cousin Miss Marilyn Loosemore in Three Hills, Alberta, and Miss Delores Bach of Rutland.

The toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Mr. Fred Patterson of Calgary, and was ably answered by the groom. Mr. Nick Imthorn proposed the toast to the bridesmaid, and telegrams were read from Mr. and Mrs. H. Loosmore of Three Hills, Alberta, and from the groom's uncle Mr. H. Farenholtz of Nelson, B.C.

Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. B. Carlyle and daughters Nancy and Mary Jane, Mrs. H. Mikkelsen and daughter Anne, Mrs. M. C. Carlyle, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. F. Patterson and sons Larry and Wayne, Miss Marilyn Loosmore, Mrs. H. Loosmore, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. R. Cary and Mr. and Mrs. H. Grice, all from Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. R. Turner from Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. E. Clark and family from Edmonton, Mrs. H. Larenholtz and Mr. E. Larenholtz from Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. D. McRory of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. D. Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. G. Seter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Felty and Mr. R. Lemieux from North Surrey, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Imthorn from Ladner and Mr. Gary Miller from Rivers, Manitoba. For her honeymoon to Spokane and Nelson he bride changed to a smart suit of soft blue wool, with which she wore a white hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The newlyweds will reside at 1616 Centennial Crescent, Kelowna.

United Church Women's Work Is Unified Under Board Of Women

"What is the influence of the Church in these changing times?"

This is the question asked by Mrs. Rose of Toronto, when she opened her address in First United Church on Monday, September 18th. Mrs. Rose is past president of the Dominion Council of the Women's Association of the United Church of Canada and is a member of the Continuing Committee on Women's Work under the direction of General Council, in the preparation for the new organization coming into being January 1962. This new organization will be called "United Church Women". At present there are two organizations for women within the church, the Women's Missionary Society and the Women's Association. Through the years as these organizations developed along with other organizations within the church, their activities broadened and reports have shown a great deal of overlapping of both purpose and administration. Because of this the whole structure of the United Church is being changed. The existing administrations will be unified and integrated into the total work of the Church. The new women's groups will be under the direction of a Board of Women, the first chairman of which will be Mrs. Jean Hutchinson of Toronto. Women will also serve on all other boards and committees of the church. It was to discuss the part women will take in this new organization that Mrs. Rose came to Kelowna.

In her opening remarks Mrs. Rose pointed out the tremendous responsibility of all Christians to witness continually to the power of Christ by living as He taught. She called attention to the great fervor with which Mr. Khrushchev extols the virtues of his beliefs and she suggested that those who really believe in another way of life should even more, take every opportunity to speak about it. Personal sacrifice, up-set traditions and changing patterns are all necessary if the challenge of these changing times is to be met.

The whole world is staggering under political, economic and moral pressures and only as people involved show the influence of their Faith will the steady hand of the Church be felt. Mrs. Rose challenged the women to be "the conscience of the nation" in their new role; to speak the truth; shake off apathy and indifference to the great moral issues of the day, and so to live that all will know they are truly a part of the Church.

It has been said that the great need of all Christians is to deepen their spiritual life. To this end "United Church Women" will encourage its members to greater use of the power of prayer, and to more Bible study. Much greater emphasis will be placed on these aspects and on being informed of the functions and activities of the Church. A new United Church Manual is being prepared. A new Handbook for United Church Women is ready and a great deal of other information is available to help women prepare themselves to witness effectively in this new organization.

Mrs. Rose quoted Dr. George Birch, chairman of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service, who said "If the Church would speak to the World of today, it must be the incarnation of that which it proclaims." To bring this about, then, should be the aim of every Christian, and as the Church speaks through the lives of its members, each member should show in his or her life, that he is one in the fellowship of Christ.

Vernon Proves Itself As A Convention City

By DOUG PECK
(Courier Reporter)

VERNON (Staff) — There's a long-standing rumor that Vernon isn't much of a convention city.

Penticton, Kelowna, Trail and Vancouver among others have made names for themselves in this respect, but this North Okanagan centre has acquired a reputation for other things.

It's hospitality, for instance; its position as the hub of three lakes, and its proximity to some of the finest skiing in the Interior, on Silver Star mountain.

Now Vernon is about to prove itself as a convention city par excellence. About to give notice that from now on it is very interested in hosting conventions, in offering the best possible facilities for the conduct of business sessions and varied entertainment, all at the crossroads of trade and traffic. It will do so next week, Wednesday through Friday, as host of the fifty-eighth annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, the senior municipal gathering in the province last year held in New Westminster.

Vernon has had this honor twice before in the 69 years since its incorporation, the last time in 1951.

But never before has it been lucky enough to have a senior guest speaker the Prime Minister of Canada, the Rt. Hon. John G. Diefenbaker, who will address some 3,500 people in Civic Arena on Thursday night.

Never before, too, has Vernon been promised so many delegates; 825 men and their wives at last count, representing 101 B.C. municipalities.

And the 60 young girls who will act as waitresses to raise money for the Vernon Panthers Canadian football team.

Thus the stage is set, and the curtain about to go up on one of the biggest events in the city's history.

"We are deeply appreciative and certainly greatly honored," are the words of one of the chief actors, Mayor Frank Becker, who is getting to be an old hand at acting as official host to major municipal events.

Time will tell the rest, but if effort means anything, it will be a happy story, and it will mean that the city is ready for just about anything, convention-wise.

Move over Penticton, you've got company!

ONLY MEMBER
City council, Mayor Becker, and Aldermen Rice, Valair, Holt, Telfer, Palmer and August deserve a large share, as does the staff at city hall of which city clerk Ian Garven,

And never before has it made such lavish preparations for the business and entertainment which has been packed into the shortest three days in history.

The official business starts at 10 a.m. on Tuesday in the Senior High School, which with the arena shares the spotlight as a convention centre.

The business officially winds up at 4:30 p.m. on Friday.

Mrs. Diefenbaker will accompany her husband.

Among other distinguished guests will be Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley D. Black, Agriculture Minister Francis X. Richter, George S. Mooney, executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, Oka. Jan-Revelstoke M.P. Stuart Fleming, and Frank Venables, a past president of the B.C. School Teachers Association.

The Hon. Mr. Black, Mayor Becker and Mr. Mooney will give addresses in addition to the prime minister.

But there is much more to convention week. There are executive sessions which start at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, and which will wind up sometime early Friday evening after several meetings.

And there is the Civil Defence exercise on Saturday morning, Operation Vernon 1961, which runs from 8:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. and which will be attended by probably half the conventioners.

There is also a program for the delegates' wives, on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, and there is the windup amboree at Civic Arena for all conventioners starting at 8 p.m.

As if this wasn't enough there will be guided tours of fruit orchards, fishing for those who want a break from serious business, and golf.

Thanks for these preparations must go to many people, which cannot all be named here.

COMMITTED TO HIGHER COURT IN DEATH OF VERNON MAN

CHILLIWACK (CP)—George J. Krigour was committed for trial in a higher court when he appeared Friday on a charge of criminal negligence.

Kilgour had been charged in connection with the traffic death of George Hembling of Vernon.

Hembling, who was blind, was a passenger in a car driven by his wife, Gladys. He died in hospital following a two-car collision on the Trans-Canada highway near here May 10.

The couple was en route to a CNIB conference in Vancouver.

VERNON (Staff) — A three-meeting objective study of radiation is planned for its first fall meetings by the United Nations Association branch.

President Jack Arrand said the plan will be submitted to the membership for approval.

It is proposed that Mr. Arrand, assistant provincial entomologist in Vernon, will give the first talk, followed by a panel discussion, probably late in October. Mr. Arrand's talk will be Oct. 5.

The final part of the study will be an address by a radiation expert.

Mr. Arrand said it was hoped that Dr. James Naylor, the widely-known university of Saskatchewan geneticist, would speak on this occasion.

VERNON (Staff) — We are becoming a nation of spectators in sport, warns the Rt. Rev. Bishop A. H. Sovereign.

"Too often we sit back and exercise our lungs by yelling at the referee while we watch a group of muscle-bound athletes perform."

Bishop Sovereign issued this exhortation at the reception in the Legion Auditorium Friday for participants of the first junior Olympic track meets held this summer in Vernon and later in Vancouver during the Pacific National Exhibition.

More than 200 youngsters in the 10-17 age range, attended.

A highlight of the evening which saw addresses by Mayor Frank Becker, local branch president John Corner, and North Okanagan zone Royal Canadian Legion president Percy Maundrell among others, was presentation of certificates and trophies.

Charlie Hayhurst of Vernon was presented with a replica of the Fred Hilborn trophy for earning the most points in the North Okanagan zone track and field meet in Vernon last summer.

The junior Olympic program was started this year under the sponsorship of Royal Canadian Legion branches.

$14,362 TOTAL
Lumby United Church Sets Fund Raising Record

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Lumby United Church has broken existing records in its drive for funds.

This was contained in a letter to the official board from Wilfred Palmer, campaign director, B.C. campaign fund raising department of the United Church of Canada.

It disclosed the church had received in cash and pledges to date $14,362.50, pledges extend over a three-year period.

Lumby's campaign was the twentieth conducted by the department and two records have been smashed. The cost was lowest on record, at 3.2 per cent of the total raised, and the increase in giving has jumped by 1,013 per cent. Closest to this was Greenwood's campaign when giving increased 922 per cent.

Spencer Pent, director of fund raising for the Okanagan, Kamloops, and Cariboo areas, said: "During my six years in this field I have never experienced such an outstanding success."

He had only praise for Palmer and local chairman, and he advised parishioners of the importance of a good follow up committee to ensure that all pledges come in and urged people to submit names of any new families who belong to the United Church who move into the district.

October 13 is date set for the Anglican Guild home bake sale at the Lumby JGA. The ladies have also called a work bee to clean and decorate the church on Oct. 6 for the harvest festival. Date has also been set for their annual bazaar at Nov. 9.

Members of the Lumby United Church met Wednesday to hear the detailed results of their drive for funds to build a Christian youth centre.

Pledges from members were for a three year period. Pastor J. Ferguson reported that it was hoped the building could be started this fall.

One problem has yet to be surmounted however, in that a new site must be found. Where the United Church now stands there is not enough room to expand.

Lumby's campaign was the twentieth conducted by the department and two records have been smashed. The cost was lowest on record, at 3.2 per cent of the total raised, and the increase in giving has jumped by 1,013 per cent. Closest to this was Greenwood's campaign when giving increased 922 per cent.

Spencer Pent, director of fund raising for the Okanagan, Kamloops, and Cariboo areas, said: "During my six years in this field I have never experienced such an outstanding success."

See Work Of Missionaries

Two teams of film and film-strip producers will leave Canada shortly to bring back to North America congregations a visual presentation of the work of the church in Korea, Okinawa, Formosa and Hong Kong. A motion picture film on the theme "The Rim of East Asia" will be produced for the Commission on Missionary Education of The National Council of Churches (U.S.A.) by Berkeley Studio of The United Church of Canada. Rev. A. C. Moorhouse is executive producer and his team will include director, George Gorman; editor, Shirley Tyler; cameraman, Edmond de Fay; plus sound technicians to be added in each of the four areas visited.

A filmstrip team under the direction of Miss Jitsuko Soda of Berkeley Studio will make color transparencies and sound recording on the same theme. This project is supported by the United Church of Christ (U.S.A.), the Committee on Christian Literature and Literacy of the National Council of Churches and the United Church of Canada.

John the Baptist spent the last years of his long life overseeing the churches in Asia. He was about 95 when he wrote the letter known as John III to Gaius, an influential layman in one of the churches.—III John 1.

He commends Gaius for his Christian hospitality. When evangelists were set out from the church at Ephesus they depended on men like Gaius "to welcome such" and to provide expenses for their trips.—III John 5-8.

In the same town as Gaius lived another influential layman named Diotrephes, a haughty, vain man "who loveth to have the preeminence." Jealous of the traveling evangelists, he treated them badly.—III John 9-10.

John has learned all this from evangelists he sent out, who return to him and report the work and attitudes of Gaius and Diotrephes.—III John 3.

Three Great Gatherings Of Churches For 'Unity'

Three great church gatherings are in the offing—to lead further impetus to one of the significant religious developments of our time: The drive toward Christian unity. This is the first of three articles on the movement, its aim and prospects.

By GEORGE CORNELL, AP Religious Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Churches of the world are rallying their scattered forces today in the biggest and most far-reaching quest for unity in Christian annals.

They're re-establishing ties that have been broken for centuries. They're conceding mutual offences of the past.

Over-all, the development is known as the Ecumenical Movement. It takes its mandate from Christ's prayer as recorded in John 17:21—"That they all may be one."

The reconciliation is a prime concern of a series of forthcoming conclaves of unsurpassed scope. They are:

The Pan-Orthodox Council Sept. 25 to Oct. 1, on the island of Rhodes, Greece, bringing together representatives of all Orthodox Church jurisdictions, with about 200,000,000 members. It is the first such meeting in 50 years.

176 SECTS MEET
The General Assembly of the World Council of Churches Nov. 18 to Dec. 6 in New Delhi, India, including delegates of 176 Orthodox, Anglican, Old Catholic and Protestant denominations with 250,000,000 members in 52 countries, the most widely encompassing Christian gathering ever.

The second Vatican council, now tentatively scheduled for late 1962, convening ecclesiastical superiors of the 500,000,000-member Roman Catholic Church throughout the world. It will be the first such meeting in 92 years, and the biggest of its kind.

Protestant and Orthodox observers are expected to be invited.

For the first time, the Roman Catholic Church also is sending official observers to the Protestant and Orthodox assemblies. "The barriers are not unbridgeable and are visibly, in this our day, being bridged," says the retired archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Francis Fisher.

DON'T EXPECT SPEED
No one expects the time-

erusted divisions to be quickly overcome.

But precedent-breaking were the recent calls on Pope John XXIII by top Protestant and Orthodox leaders. And for the first time since Orthodoxy split with Rome 900 years ago, regular communications have resumed.

A wave of publications, seminars and research studies, each group analyzing concepts and customs of the others, has arisen in the bid for mutual understanding.

Theologians say the objective is to get to know each other, not to convert. Less and less do Roman Catholic leaders speak of an essential, unconditional "return" of non-Catholics to Rome.

CAN'T REACH HIM...

They call him a problem child. "Can't reach him," say some. "He won't respond," echo others. Young as he is, he's already been in trouble with the police.

Why? There are lots of words, lots of phrases, to describe youngsters like this. The papers are full of them every day. There are lots of excuses given—for him, and for society. Are they valid?

This boy has parents. Why can't they reach him? Is it, perhaps, because they can't really reach themselves? Because they've never found themselves?

Self-discovery takes courage. It doesn't come easily. It takes help. It demands faith. The starting point for a quest of this kind is in the Church. This boy needs the Church. So do his parents. So, for that matter, do we all!

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ON THE SCENE

ERIC GREEN

After some Eric's deliberation, I have decided not to take the highroad via use of blinders to bypass Stan Kelly and his pungent basses with a poison pen.

Kelly's Korny Kolumn has been off on me and thumped me literally for fun. Mr. K. was justified, granted. But is justification any reason to step aside so Kelly can put by his literary scouter?

The ink-blot from Kelly's pen splattered messily. He hadn't yet read my carping about Nats Yllick's inanities. Yllick is Kelly's seven-league blowhard of the sports scene.

Kelly staunchly declared that he would don his nickel-plated verbal armour and reach lustily for scabbard in which his pen abides in preparation of blood-letting.

Kelly protested my insinuation that apparently might as well have been written in Greek. I'll interpret later, after I stop boiling and let the fahrenheit slide down the scale of anger.

FROM CHARLES E.

Note to Stan Kelly: Keep trying, you'll be a sports editor before you're a writer. C. E. Giordano.

JR. HOCKEY AGAIN

Kelly reports in his column that only a handful of Penticton juniors have shown up for practice. Kelly calls the enthusiasm and confidence promoters of junior hockey have—"unrealistic."

His reason: Because of the handful of real junior calibre players, it will be necessary to gin up the club with juvenile types.

The product will not be of a calibre to set fire to Junior 'A', that sports writer feels. "From where we sit it looks like a dubious practice which, rather than helping hockey, could deal it a mortal blow," he said.

OPTIMISM THE KEY

From my perch, optimism and hell-fire and brimstone in these youngsters is going to carry the league out of the vat of hot water. It is an established fundamental that we always fall short of our ambitions, and for this reason we should set out ambitions at pinnacles rather than at sea level.

It is supreme optimism and faith coupled with hard work from key men that will make the league.

I suggest, Kelly, that what you call wholesale stripping is justified in order to get a league going that can at least in part replace senior hockey.

CAN BE REPLACED

Senior hockey was not indispensable on the basis it was played last season. The fact that it disappeared is more weight of authority for this statement.

If Junior Hockey makes enough of a show—and we mean a show in terms of producing and not just tumult and shouting—it will prove successful.

Kelly seems worried about lack of juveniles to graduate upward come next season. Don't forget that most juveniles would end up in a commercial league, or get out of competition hockey completely, if there were no junior league.

The presence of this league will keep them working at it, and will keep them from leagues in other provinces. This draining off of talent has hurt.

Yesterday we lined a story about Senior 'A' Hockey's death rattles. This is the effect in part of that draining-off, and getting out of the hockey racket.

NO ROOM FOR BOTH

Bob Giordano has said junior and senior hockey can't live together in the Okanagan. This is another consideration completely.

But because all the talent is local; because the league will retain the former drop-outs; because the league is supported by hopeful and hard-working men; because of these things junior hockey has a better than good chance of surviving.

I don't believe, and others who should know, don't believe its birth is premature.

But Kelly says: The course seems to be set. Let's hope that this rather impetuous leap into Junior 'A' doesn't have repercussions which those fostering it will have occasion to regret.

SORRY, ALL TO HECK

Apologies to High School Football for failing to give them plug yesterday for their first season game this year.

DOUSING FOR MANAGER

New York Yankee Manager Ralph Houk is doused in the dressing room after his team clinched the 1961 American League pennant with a 4-2 victory over Baltimore. This was Houk's first year as National League manager. The team has won six pennants in the last seven years.

Spotlight Off Rog; Gentile Takes Bow

Take the spotlight off Roger Maris of New York Yankees for a moment and turn it on Jim Gentile, Baltimore's slugging first baseman with the grand slam habit.

Gentile, among the leaders in home runs and runs batted in but overshadowed by Maris' attempt to crack Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers in one season, equalled a major league record Friday night by cracking his fifth grand slammer in the fifth inning to put away the victory over Chicago White Sox. The blast, Gentile's 44th of the year, came off Don Larsen as the Orioles scored seven runs in the fifth inning to put away the victory. Pitcher Chuck Estrada was the beneficiary — just as he had been for Gentile's four previous bases — loaded shots.

Maris' feat matched the mark set by Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs in 1955 and surpassed the American League record of four held by Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Tommy Henrich of the Yankees. Al Rosen and Ray Boone of Cleveland Indians and Rudy York of Detroit Tigers.

Maris' feat matched the mark set by Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs in 1955 and surpassed the American League record of four held by Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Tommy Henrich of the Yankees. Al Rosen and Ray Boone of Cleveland Indians and Rudy York of Detroit Tigers.

Maris, who no longer can officially tie the Bambino's 60-homer record of 1927 under the new rule, has seven games remaining in the regular season.

Should Maris reach 61 homers, Ruth's 154 — game record will still remain but Roger will have a record nevertheless — most home runs in a 162-game season.

Maris would prefer to be playing anywhere but at Fenway Park in his effort to top Babe Ruth's 60 home runs in one season. The blonde batter has hit 59. He has seven games left in which to top the Babe.

Never a haven for left-handed hitters because of the distant wall in right centre, Fenway Park is especially tough in September because of the prevailing winds blowing in from that sector.

Maris' immediate target will be Don Schwall (15-5), slated to pitch for the Red Sox today. The rookie right-hander so far has been successful in keeping his name from the long list of Maris' victims.

Boston's pitcher Sunday will be right-hander Bill Monbouquette (13-13) who has been clipped by two Maris homers this year, one here and the other at Yankee Stadium. Maris has hit six home runs against Monbouquette, four here.

Maris plays his last five games at Yankee Stadium where he has socked 28 of his 44 homers.

154 — decision limit set by Commissioner Fred Rea, faces rookie righthander Don Schwall (15-5) in the opener of a two-game set between the Yankees and Red Sox.

Meanwhile, after a day off, Maris tries again today for homer no. 60, at Boston's Fenway Park, where Ruth began his major league career. Maris with 59 homers, has seven games remaining in the regular season.

But Habs' Big Boomer Has A Voice, Will Sing

VICTORIA (CP)—Teen-agers won a contest in Montreal when they had a singing competition in the city's parks," said Geoffrion.

"I was really impressed with these fellows in Toronto. They showed me everything and the agent said if I wanted to make Montreal Canadians, who are training here, said Friday he me."

It will happen only when he becomes too old to withstand the rigors of the National Hockey League, he said, but he's dead serious.

"I got an offer to make records from an agent who handles guys like this Fabian," he said. Geoffrion. "I never asked anyone on the club how they feel about it, and right now all I'm interested in is hockey."

He doesn't know what he's going to sing, but he figures he has the background for a successful career.

Recently he sang C'est Magnifique and Dear Hearts and Gentle People on a national television show from Toronto.

"And when I was younger I had a singing competition in the city's parks," said Geoffrion.

Some of the thorns involved in the scramble for regular berths on the team were starting to show at workouts.

Two rookies—winger Fred Hiltz and defenceman Terry Harper—shattered the serenity of the camp with an elbow-throwing scuffle that almost ended in fist-swinging.

Coach Toe Blake thought the "fighting - for - your - keep" display was a healthy sign. Players quickly separated the pair.

Cesare Maniago has been impressive in goal and his record is forcing Blake and vice-president Ken Reardon to have a second look. His average is about five goals better than any of his three rivals — Jacques Plante, Ed Johnston and Char-

Jean Beliveau, who suffered a cut on the instep of his foot Wednesday, showed little effect of the injury. He checked in with his first goal in the

Legionnaires Close In On Boxla Title

PORT CREDIT (CP) — Cy Coombe lost $9 Friday night and won a lacrosse game. If he can do it again tonight his Hastings Legionnaires will become Canadian junior champions and possessors of the Minto Cup.

The Legionnaires, trampled Burnaby Norburns 15-6 to take a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven series. They'd own the cup right now if an earlier game they won 10-9 hadn't been washed out by a Burnaby protest.

Coombe was almost incoherent with sleep following Friday night's decisive win.

"What a bunch those boys are. They sure were downhearted after the last game and I wasn't sure about them for this one. But I gave them a going over."

"I even bet $9 against them. I'm glad I lost the $9."

Bill Dickenson, Norburns' coach, made no excuses: "You can't win when you quit and that's what we did out there in the last period. Our passing was grim. Those guys just weren't getting back there. They'd better be a whole lot better the next time."

Shuttle Talk

With MARI McFADDEN

I was sitting polishing my racket by polishing it, I hope to so dazzle my opponents that they won't see the bird and thinking of badminton, tournament wise, in the valley.

Who will be the favorites in the tournaments soon to come in Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Vernon and Kelowna.

The record books show that 1959 was Kelowna's year with such names as Larson, Lamont and Stevens appearing on the cups. Then came 1960 which I would call Dalin's Delight.

Husband and wife Chris and Yvonne of Celista and brother Bill from Kamloops were formidable opponents. One just had to shuffle the names a little to come up with the winners in the men's singles, doubles, mixed doubles and ladies' singles in different tournaments.

Who will lead in 1961-62—the Dalins, Kelowna's stable of entries or the proverbial dark horse?

Thinking it over and being slightly prejudiced I would say, "Kelowna by a nose." Now all we need is a member with an enlarged proberic.

In some hands, declarer has a wide choice of plays. All he can do in these cases is try to find the line of play that offers the best chance of success.
The right play may turn out wrong, and the wrong play may turn out right, but it is obviously best in the long run to choose the method of play that, mathematically, has the best chance to succeed.

There is a hand where declarer has a difficult choice of plays. West leads a spade. How should South play the hand? He sees 11 sure tricks, and the problem is to try to win a 12th trick in the safest way possible.
There are two obvious ways for South to play. One is to rely on a club finesse. If it succeeds, the only loser will be a heart. The other is for South

Remodel Now - Pay Later - Use Revolving Charge Plan

It's Easy As A.B.C.

A. When you open your account, state the amount of monthly payment you wish to make and your total credit will be ten times that amount.

B. For every purchase within the credit limit of your choice, you simply say "charge it to my Valley Revolving Credit Charge Plan."

C. You'll receive a monthly statement listing charge purchases, payments, service charge and balance. Charge purchases so long as balance is less than credit limit.

Choose Size of Account Best Suited to Your Needs

If you set your limit at	$100	$150	$200	$250	$300
Each month you pay only	$10	$15	$20	$25	$30
